

1	LILLY FAIR
2	ANNIE LAWRIE
3	OLD FRIENDS ARE GONE
4	BLUE VIOLETS
5	THE DEAREST SPOT ON EARTH
6	SHELLS OF OCEAN
7	THE FLOWER GIRL
8	I THINK OF THEE
9	I HAD A DREAM
10	I NEVER HAVE BEN FALSE TO THEE
11	OH CALL IT BY SOME BETTER NAME
12	ANNIE MAY
13	OUR FATHER WHO ART IN HEAVEN. . . .
14	OH NEVER ASK ME TO FORGET . . . . .

E GERY ENG

ntered according to the Act of Congress in the year 1858 by P.P. WERLEIN & Co in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the E.

New Orleans.
PHILIP WERLEIN.

ANNIE MAY

SONG WITH CHORUS.

WORDS BY

E. S. EASTMAN.

COMPOSED and ARRANGED FOR THE GUITAR

F. R. PROHL.

a Tempo.
wait - ing now, and watch - ing for the bles - sed day,
wait - ing now, and watch - ing for the bles - sed day,
wait - ing now, and watch - ing for the bles - sed day,
wait - ing now, and watch - ing for the bles - sed day,
rall.
pp
When the gates of Heaven shall un - fold to An - nie May.
When the gates of Heaven shall un - fold to An - nie May.
When the gates of Heaven shall un - fold to An - nie May.
When the gates of Heaven shall un - fold to An - nie May.

2

Gentle is the murmur, of the dancing rill,
And the zephyr's music through the heart doth thrill,
Sweeter is the carol, so joyous, and so gay,
Warbled from the lips, of my darling Annie May.

(CHORUS) She's &

3

Fair than the lily, is her snowy brow,
And her golden ringlets cluster o'er it now,
O'er her ruby lips, a gentle smile doth play,
Ever shedding sun shine, round my Annie May

(CHORUS) She's &

4

Drooping are the lids that shield each hazel eye,
And the rose like blushes on her cheeks oft lie,
Angry words are banished from her lips away,
And dimples love to linger, with darling Annie May.

(CHORUS) She's &

5

Clouds of sorrow gather, storms of grief draw nigh
On the "Rock of ages" rest her trustful eyes,
Waiting now and watching for the blessed day,
When the gates of Heaven shall unfold to Annie May.

(CHORUS) She's &

Wehrmann Eng: Pr: